

AH/RL 350 THE IBERIAN PENINSULA: CULTURES AND RELIGIONS THROUGH THE ARTS
IES Abroad Madrid

DESCRIPTION:

This course aims to apply visual arts techniques to the interpretation of the Spanish and European experience of Islam, both in the past (the eight centuries of Islamic presence in Spain) and in Modern and Contemporary times; therefore, the timeframe of the course goes from the Middle Ages to the 21st century. The course proposes a historical as well as contemporary approach to the subject in order to analyze the connections between past and present in the European experience of Islam, focusing on moments of conflict, tolerance or coexistence. The classes and course-related excursions will help to analyze the evolution of these relations through the analysis of artistic images, architecture, popular imagery and film.

Course Element

Midterm Exam:

The midterm exam will cover the material from lectures, videos, our readings and our class discussion.

Final Exam:

The Final Exam will cover the material from lectures, videos, our readings and our class discussion.

Term paper:

On the day listed in the syllabus, students must turn in a 10-page original critical analysis paper (double-spaced, 12-point font, Calibri). This paper is to have a clear introduction and historical thesis, and it will demonstrate students' use of knowledge from the reading and class materials to answer the question posed by the professor on the syllabus. All response papers must use proper historical citation (Chicago style).

Class presentation:

The presentation in class will deal with a topic assigned by the teacher and will be adjusted to the established time.

Participation:

You must attend each class and actively participate in the dialogues and discussions. Students with special circumstances affecting their attendance must discuss them with the professor in advance or as soon as possible noting the circumstances in a written document.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Apply basic art history tools to analyze historical/cultural facts.
- Identify the key moments of the relationship between Europe and Islam.
- Distinguish the key features and symbols that appear in the artworks and interpret their meaning.
- Describe the different meanings of each visual element according to the class content.
- Measure the importance of visual arts in the construction of religious and cultural identities.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

As a member of our class community, you are expected to be present and on time every day. Attending class has an impact on your learning and academic success. For this reason, attendance is mandatory for all IES Madrid classes, including course-related excursions. Absences will only be excused in cases of documented medical or family emergencies. Any assessed work, including exams, tests, and presentations, will be rescheduled if the absence is justified; otherwise, it will be graded as 0. You are allowed a maximum of 1 unexcused absence for once-a-week courses and 2 unexcused absences for twice-a-week courses. Each additional absence will deduct 5 points from your final grade. Accumulating 7 or more absences in twice-a-week courses, or 4 or more in once-a-week courses, may lead to a failing grade. Students arriving more than 11 minutes after the scheduled start time will be marked as 'late.' Three 'late' arrivals will be counted as 1 absence. Any student arriving 30 minutes or more after the scheduled start time will be marked as 'absent.' For more information, please refer to the full Attendance and Punctuality Policy document.
