

PO 382 FRENCH FOREIGN AND EUROPEAN POLICY

IES Abroad Paris

DESCRIPTION:

After the horror of World War Two, the nations of Western Europe looked to create new relations founded no longer on the use of force but rather of confidence and law between themselves and the rest of the world. They drafted a project to create an "ever closer union among the peoples of Europe" by creating institutions, political practices, and a unified market. This European body has slowly become a major economic actor in global commerce.

The geopolitical upheavals of 1989 (the fall of the Iron Curtain and the Berlin Wall along with the collapse of the USSR in 1991) made it necessary for the international political affirmation of this European body and the creation of the "European Union" (EU) with the Treaty of Maastricht in 1992. After the implementation of the euro (2002) the EU grew to encompass the nations of old Eastern Europe (2004-2007). There are now 28 EU member states (Croatia became a member in July 2013).

Despite economic and political crises, the EU continues to attract neighboring states, such as Turkey and Ukraine, and to test its geographical limits. Due to these crises, however, the EU also incites the skepticism of member nations considering withdrawal. For example, the British Prime Minister David Cameron announced the organization of the referendum "Brexit" in 2017.

The adaptation of the EU to its growing size and complex global geopolitical changes after the Cold War has been, and continues to be difficult. The attempt to create a "treaty establishing a European Constitution" failed in 2005. Since 2006-2008 the EU has been confronted by financial, economic, social and monetary crisis. Greece, Portugal, Spain, Ireland, and Italy have all been particularly affected. In Greece and Spain the unemployment rate for youth is more than 50%. The crisis affects the Euro, the solidarity between member states, and the future of the EU.

60 years after its conception, the "European Construction" remains fragile with an uncertain future. 2014 is notable for the European elections that were held in May in each of the 28 EU member states.

CREDITS: 3 creditsCONTACT HOURS: 45 hoursLANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION: FrenchPREREQUISITES: noneMETHOD OF PRESENTATION:

- Lectures
- Student Presentations
- Discussions

REQUIRED WORK AND FORM OF ASSESSMENT:

- Attention, textbook readings, active participation - 25%
- Oral presentation on current events - 25%
- Midterm written exam - 25%
- Final written exam- 25%

Written Exams (Midterm/Final)

The written exams are composed of two parts:

1. a quiz on concepts of the course (dates, people, institutions...)
2. long answer responses in a precise; complete, and organized matter to one question

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

By the end of the course students will be able to:

- Determine dates and important events in the European construction
- Evaluate the roles of the different actors in this construction
- Recognize the principle concepts of the EU
- Analyze and discuss in a pertinent manner French and European current events and news
- Present a speech in French on French or European current events
- Articulate in a complete, organized, and precise manner in written responses

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Attendance is mandatory for all course meetings, including visits. Absences and lateness will affect your ability to master class content. In addition, your final grade will be lowered by 1/6 of a letter grade for each absence.

For example:

- Final grade : A-.
- 1 absence = A-, 2 absences = B+, 3 absences = B+, 4 absences = B ...

Being more than 15 minutes late to a course counts as an absence. 3 late arrivals (less than 15 minutes) count as an absence.

If a student misses more than 25% of class time, s/he will receive an F in the course.

Assignments and presentations missed because of absences will be given the grade of F.

When absences occur, students must inform their teacher and the French Studies Academic Coordinator as soon as possible (amilan@iesparis.org). In some instances (sickness with doctor's note for example), absences may be excused. If a student believes that an absence should be excused, he or she must contact Scott, Seth or Alexandra.
