AH/LS/LT 231 SOCIAL AND POLITICAL ROLE OF THE ARTS IN CHILE AND LATIN AMERICA
IES Abroad Santiago

DESCRIPTION:
This course examines the links between anti-establishment and aesthetic praxis in Latin America since 1930. Topics are organized in two modules. Painting, music and theatre are studied through the lens of political, social and economic change, with particular emphasis on Chile, Argentina, and Mexico. A general overview on Latin American music and theatre developments during the 20th Century includes a study of classic and popular music. Students will attend performances and exhibits in Santiago and Valparaiso.

REQUIRED WORK AND FORM OF ASSESSMENT:
• Modules (3 total) – 90%
• Final Group Presentation – 10%

Modules
There are three modules, each worth 30% of the final course grade (90% total).

Module One
Groups of three students will choose a painter to prepare a 10-minute oral presentation and write a 20-page paper. Content must include a short biography of the painter, the social and political context where he/she developed the piece, the meaning of this piece of art, and your own personal impressions.

Grade components for Module One:
• Group presentation – 30%
• Group paper – 70%

Module Two
Module Two is comprised of an exam, class participation, and a response paper.

Grade components for Module Two:
• Exam – 50%
• Class Participation – 25%
• Response Paper – 25%

Module Three
Groups of three students will choose from a list of suggested topics to prepare a 10-minute oral presentation and write a 20-page paper. The module evaluation will finish with a broad discussion and conclusions.
Grade components for Module Three:
- Group Presentation – 30%
- Group Paper – 70%

Final Group Presentation
Students will divide into three groups. Each group will prepare a 20-minute oral presentation on one of the three modules, pointing out anti-establishment art expressions discovered in the course through painting, cinema, music, and theatre.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:
By the end of the course, students will be able to:
- Know and understand the role of culture in the construction of local identity.
- Recognize distinct theoretical and ideological positions.
- Learn and analyze the relationship between art, history, and sociopolitical context and how Latin American artists developed during the 20th century.
- Know and understand the cultural problems of Latin America that has manifested during the 20th century.
- Develop skills in reading and writing in Spanish.
- Think critically of movements and artists.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:
Attendance and punctuality are mandatory for all IES Abroad classes, including course-related excursions. Any exams, tests, presentations, or other work missed due to student absences can only be rescheduled in cases of documented medical or family emergencies. If a student misses more than 1.5 classes (for courses taught once a week) or 2.5 classes (for courses taught twice a week) in any course, the final grade will be reduced by one-third of a letter grade (for example, A- to B+) for every additional unexcused absence. Six absences in any course will result in a failing grade.

Punctuality
Students who are late to class will receive a .5 absence. Arriving in class more than 15 minutes late will result in 1 absence.
