

EC 342 EUROPEAN REGIONAL ECONOMIES
IES Abroad Barcelona

DESCRIPTION: As Europe forges an increasingly closer union, regions have emerged as important actors, both economically and politically. The purpose of this course is to study, particularly from an economic perspective, the origins, significance and possible futures of the so-called “Europe of Regions”, in a context of increasing economic and political interdependence.

CREDITS: 3 credits

CONTACT HOURS: 45 hours

LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION: English

PREREQUISITES: A background in economic theory and a basic knowledge of statistics.

METHOD OF PRESENTATION:

Lectures : where fundamental aspects of the topics will be presented.

Class Discussion: where we will compare and contrast different views on the subject.

DEBATES : where we will deploy our analytical and discussion abilities.

Individual oral presentation: From Session 6 onwards, a presentation (on an individual basis) of about 15-20 minutes on a topic related to the subject to be covered that day in class will take place. Students are expected to conduct research on the session's topic and evaluate the claim of at least one academic publication about the topic at hand. The grade obtained will depend on the depth, clarity and originality of the presentation.

Group projects: A team of two student will work on a project applying one of the class topics to the analysis of the economic situation of one of the regions of Europe. While one of the students will be responsible for the exploration and evaluation of academic literature on the topic and on the region, the second will be responsible for researching and interpreting first hand data on the topic.

REQUIRED WORK AND FORM OF ASSESSMENT:

- Mid-term exam (20%)
- Final exam (20%)
- Class participation and quizzes (25%)
- Topic Presentation (15%)
- Group project work (20%)

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

By the end of the course students will be able to:

- explain the theoretical bases for economic integration;
- describe and analyse the historical course of European integration;
- identify and illustrate the impact of integration on distinct national and regional economies (e.g. labour mobility, education, competitiveness, etc.);
- discuss and analyse key issues facing the contemporary European economy and its continued integration;
- define the main indicators of economic performance, find and interpret economic data, and discuss it from a comparative perspective;
- demonstrate an ability to investigate and effectively communicate their knowledge on a specific European economic topic to the rest of the class.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Attendance is mandatory for all IES Abroad classes, including course-related trips. Any exams, tests, presentations, or other work missed due to student absences can only be rescheduled in cases of documented medical or family emergencies. If a student misses more than three classes in any course 3 percentage points will be deducted from the final grade for every additional absence. Seven absences in any course will result in a failing grade.
