DESCRIPTION:
Humans Rights in Chile and Latin American is a course oriented to contribute to the intercultural development of IES Abroad students in Chile through reflection, critical analysis, and debate. To achieve this goal, the course covers a range of subjects related to fundamental human’s rights during the twentieth century and the first part of the twenty-first century. This reflection is based on an interdisciplinary perspective of political science, with the purpose of achieving a global and comprehensive vision of the phenomena. In turn, students are going to understand the development of the republican history in Latin-America from the most important process which allowed the configuration of the states and its relation to fundamental human’s rights.

CREDITS: 3 credits

CONTACT HOURS: 45 hours

LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION: Spanish

PREREQUISITES: This course is oriented to students who had taken at least one course (one semester) of Social Sciences: History, Economy, International Relations, Latin-American studies, Laws, Sociology, among others. Additionally, students must have taken at least 4 semesters of Spanish classes.

ADDITIONAL COST: None

METHOD OF PRESENTATION:
- Course readings
- Bibliographical discussions
- Analysis of written and audio-visual material
- Course-related trips

REQUIRED WORK AND FORM OF ASSESSMENT:
- Reading reports – 15%
- Analysis workshop – 15%
- Forum in Moodle – 20%
- Group oral presentation – 20%
- Group final project – 30%

Reading Reports
The objective of Reading reports is for students to acquire a general position about the compulsory readings. To achieve this, at the beginning of every class we will discuss the text in groups. Moodle will also be used.

*Complementary Activity
During the course there is an option of replacing one reading report for an activity related to the theme of the text. For more information, please look at the activities plan for each class.

Analysis Workshop
The Analysis Workshop’s purpose is to offer students a space to reflect on an experience that they may have in one of the places that they will visit. The analysis has to integrate compulsory readings specified by faculty, as well as documentaries and concepts learned in classes.

Forum
The Forum is an activity for students to debate about controversial and current issues. Faculty will present open questions and students will have to argue, through strong arguments and counterarguments using a constructive and rich dialogue.
Group Oral Presentations
The Oral Presentation is a collaborative task. Faculty will assign a reading to each group, and students will respond critically to the text. The presentation has to show the outstanding aspects of the text, with the purpose of explaining the main theme of the document.

Final Essay
The Final Project is a summary of the course. The task is to create audio-visual material related to one subject of the course. Videos will be presented on the next-to-last class.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:
By the end of the course, students will be able to:
• Understand general aspects of Chilean history and its relationship with human rights during the 20th century and the beginning of the 21st century.
• Recognize the links among history, memory, and democracy in the construction of societies that are more integrated and respect cultural diversity.
• Identify the principles and values that are essential to the Chilean culture and its influence in human rights development.
• Evaluate ideological tensions that happened during the 20th century as a result of the violation of human rights.
• Express a personal position regarding the development of the democratic process in Latin America.
• Understand the political and social consequences of State terrorism in Chile.
• Identify the relevant elements of political imprisonment and torture in Latin America.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:
Attendance and punctuality are mandatory for all IES Abroad classes, including course-related excursions. Any exams, tests, presentations, or other work missed due to student absences can only be rescheduled in cases of documented medical or family emergencies. If a student misses more than 1.5 classes (for courses taught once a week) or 2.5 classes (for courses taught twice a week) in any course, the final grade will be reduced by one-third of a letter grade (for example, A- to B+) for every additional unexcused absence. Six absences in any course will result in a failing grade.

Punctuality
Students who are late to class will receive a .5 absence. Arriving in class more than 15 minutes late will result in 1 absence.
