IES Abroad Siena

DESCRIPTION: This course is designed to provide students with a general knowledge of Italian language. METHOD OF PRESENTATION:
The teaching method is based on a communicative approach. This involves: accent on communication, with the objective to enable the student, from the beginning, to speak and interact in Italian. Each lesson is structured with an activity to build vocabulary and an oral or written text. The text guides the student to recognize and analyse grammatical structures. Those structures are used in oral and written exercises that the students tackle in pairs or in small groups. Free oral and/or written production exercises give students the opportunity to communicate between themselves in Italian in realistic situations.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:
By the end of the course, students will be able to achieve some of the outcomes for the Novice Abroad level as defined by the MAP for Language and Intercultural Communication. The key learning outcomes from the MAP are summarized below:

I. Intercultural Communication
a. Students will be able to meet basic everyday needs using verbal communication, they will be able to use compensatory strategies when they do not know the word or expression (repetition, body language, etc.), and they will be able to identify some basic non-verbal communication strategies.
b. Students can recognize basic appropriate and inappropriate expressions and behaviors in the host language.
c. Students will be able to distinguish between basic representations of formality and informality in the language.
d. Students will understand that there may be differences between cultural stereotypes and generalizations between the home culture and host culture.

II. Listening
a. Students will be able to understand basic statements, requests, descriptions, and questions in specific cultural context relevant to them (hosts’ interactions, Center interactions, studying, shopping, transportation, meals).
b. Students will be able to use context to understand the gist of some basic spoken language they overhear, including the media, conversations between others, and announcements.

III. Speaking
a. Students will be able to use some basic phrases appropriately in some everyday situations (home, the IES Abroad Center, and the community).
b. Students will be able to express some basic needs by asking questions, and get what they need in uncomplicated, everyday situations.

IV. Reading
a. Students will be able to identify and understand basic sentences.
b. Students will be able to interpret main ideas in short passages and news headlines, but their understanding is often limited to the words or groups of words that they have seen in class.

V. Writing
a. With limited accuracy, students will be able to write short sentences and short paragraphs about basic and concrete topics they have studied, such as themselves, their families, their friends, their likes and dislikes, and their daily routines.
b. Students will be able to send basic emails, text messages, postcards, online posts, and fill out some basic forms.

GLOBAL LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Global Self-Awareness: identifies some connections between an individual’s personal decision-making and certain local and global issues.

Cultural diversity: describes the experiences of others historically or in contemporary contexts primarily through one cultural perspective, demonstrating some openness to varied cultures and worldviews.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:
Successful progress of the program depends on the full cooperation of both students and faculty members: regular attendance and active participation in class are essential parts of the learning process. Attendance at and participation in all class meetings and field-studies are required. For language classes, more than TWO absences will result in a lowering of your grade by two percentage points for every absence.
No extra lessons are foreseen for those who frequently miss class or those who are tardy.
