DESCRIPTION:
Research has demonstrated that study abroad can enhance every aspect of language ability. One of the most important general findings of this research is, however, that study abroad is most beneficial for the development of abilities related to social interaction. Students who go abroad can learn to do things with words, such as requesting, apologizing, or offering compliments, and they may also learn to interpret situations calling such speech acts in ways that local people do. In short, and logically, study abroad has been shown to enhance the aspects of communicative competence that are most difficult to foster in classroom settings (IES Abroad MAP© for Language and Intercultural Communication, p. 6).

Student Profile
Students who enter this level are able to satisfy everyday needs required to live in a new culture. In this course, students will develop independence and autonomy so that, when communication does break down, they have enough tools at their disposal to resolve these challenges on their own. Students should welcome correction and guidance from their instructors, hosts, and others in the community as they progress. They will also begin to recognize their own and their peers’ errors.

By the end of this course, students will begin to converse at a rate of speed approaching normal conversation. They will be more creative, spontaneous and self-reliant as they solve problems, interpret texts, negotiate, express their opinions, likes and dislikes in the culture. Although students will still make errors and experience communication breakdowns, they are much more likely to resolve these on their own. Students will understand a variety of colloquial expressions and slang and will be able to understand a wider variety of native speakers from different backgrounds. By the end of this level, students will be capable of achieving the learning outcomes outlined below.

CREDITS: 4 credits

CONTACT HOURS: 60 hours

LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION: Spanish

PREREQUISITES: Completion of the Emerging Independent Abroad learning outcomes in the MAP for Language & Intercultural Communication, as determined by the placement test.

ADDITIONAL COST: None

METHOD OF PRESENTATION:
Since language is an experience of both spoken and written communication, the course will be highly participatory. The students will participate in oral and written activities both individually and in pairs and will carry out research assignments within and outside of class.

REQUIRED WORK AND FORM OF ASSESSMENT:
- Essays - 20%
- Oral Presentation - 15%
- Reflective Oral Presentation on Course-related Trips - 10%
- Grammar Tests - 15%
- Reading Tests - 10%
- Final Project - 20%
- Homework and Participation - 10%

Essays
The students will have to write four essays. The essays will have two parts: one-part research and the other opinion. The paper should be two double-spaced pages in 12 pt. Times New Roman font.
Oral Presentations
Oral presentations will be made in pairs about readings and research done on the topics covered in the course.

Grammar Tests
There will be three cumulative tests, in which vocabulary and grammar will be graded.

Reading Tests
There will be three reading comprehension tests covering the book "The Little Prince".

Final Project
The students will be required to submit a final project that encapsulates their personal and cultural experience in this program. It must be done in an original and creative way; it will be a "big picture" of your experience transformed into a collage, a PowerPoint presentation, a short video, a staged monologue, a song (performed), a drawing or a sculpture, a poem, etc. The time for the presentation will be approximately 15 minutes per student. NO LATE WORK IS ACCEPTED.

Evaluation Criteria for Homework and Participation
Students will be assessed under the following criteria (10 is the best - 4 is not acceptable):

Homework rubric
• (10) Always turns in homework on time, complete and correctly.
• (8) Turns in homework on time, complete but poorly done.
• (6) Turns in homework on time but neither complete or well done.
• (4) Sometimes turns in homework and performs half-heartedly.

Participation rubric
• (10) Always participatory, provides additional information, has a positive attitude in class. Never speaks in English.
• (8) Always participatory, positive attitude in class. Uses English only to translate certain words.
• (6) Frequently participates but uses responses of one or two words. (Too simple for the level of the class). Uses English to translate complete ideas.
• (4) Little involvement and does not have a positive attitude in class. Uses English frequently.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:
Students who are placed in this level should be capable of achieving the outcomes defined by the Emerging Independent Abroad level as defined by the IES Abroad MAP for Language and Intercultural Communication.

By the end of the course students will be able to achieve the outcomes for 353 Independent Abroad level as defined by the MAP for Language and Intercultural Communication. The key learning outcomes from the MAP are summarized below:

I. Intercultural Communication
   A. Students will be able to identify and describe at a basic level elements of the main host culture and subcultures, habits, norms, and behaviors in a variety of settings, and they will be aware of the risk that generalizations can lead to stereotypes.
   B. Students will be able to identify and discuss the validity of their own cultural beliefs, behaviors, and values by contrasting and comparing them with the host cultures.
   c. Students will be able to describe and interpret gestures and body language, and they will integrate some of those non-verbal actions into their interactions with native speakers.

II. Listening
   A. Students will be able to understand most spoken communications of moderate complexity (media, speeches, music, conversations, etc.) on a wide range of concrete everyday topics as well as abstract topics covered in classes.
   B. Students will be able to understand native speakers from a variety of backgrounds and limited experience with non-native speakers, and they will comprehend common colloquial expressions and slang.

III. Speaking
A. Students will be able to speak on and discuss a wide range of concrete, every day and personal topics, abstract topics covered in classes as well as other topics of particular interest to them.
B. Students will be able to participate, initiate and respond actively in a wide variety of interactions.

IV. Reading
A. Students will be able to read and understand blogs, articles, and short stories, using background knowledge to aid their comprehension.
B. Students will be able to read and understand more complex academic texts with assistance.

V. Writing
A. Students will be able to meet most everyday writing needs (notes, text messages, emails, chats, letters, and online forums).
B. Students will be able to write brief essays for class that narrate, describe, report, compare, contrast, and summarize on a wide range of topics.
C. Students will be able to edit their own writing and that of their peers.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:
Students must attend and arrive promptly to all classes and must be prepared to participate actively with all that has been planned. After the third absence, each absence will lower the final grade a full point. Three tardies shall be equivalent to an absence, three excused absences shall be equivalent to an unexcused absence.
